

Caroline

Associate

caroline.sinegar@bracewell.com

WASHINGTON, DC
+1.202.828.5806

Caroline Sinegar advises clients on regulatory, litigation, enforcement and policy matters across the energy industry. During law school, she served on The George Washington Law Review, and completed internships with the US Department of Energy's Office of Hearings and Appeals and the Center for Justice Innovation.

Before law school, Caroline served at the South Carolina Department of Administration and as a congressional intern to a Member of Congress.

Credentials

Education

- The University of Chicago, J.D., 2023, with honors
- Clemson University, B.A., 2019, summa cum laude

Bar Admissions

- District of Columbia

The George Washington University Law School

- The George Washington Law Review, Technical Editor

US Department of Energy

- Office of Hearings and Appeals, Legal Intern

Industries

Energy

Practices

Energy Regulatory

Litigation

Mergers & Acquisitions

Power

Renewable Energy

Energy Storage

Solar

Wind

Center for Justice Innovation

- Criminal Defense Initiatives, Legal Intern

Resources

Order No. 1977: FERC Siting Permits for Interstate Electric Transmission Facilities – FERC Finalizes Backstop Transmission Siting Reforms

Blog Post

Order No. 1920: Building for the Future Through Electric Regional Transmission Planning and Cost Allocation – Landmark Order Substantively Expands Planning Obligations for Transmission Providers

Blog Post

US Producers File Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Petition Against Solar Cells and Panels From Southeast Asia

Update

Virtual PPAs: Forwards Masquerading as Swaps

Article

Publications & Speeches

- "Virtual PPAs: Forwards Masquerading as Swaps," Futures and Derivatives Law Report, Vol. 44, Issue 7, Thomson Reuters, July/August 2024.