

Pipeline Safety & Regulation

As Legal 500 US (2020) notes, quoting one of our clients, our “team is deeply knowledgeable in the oil and gas refining industry and provides stellar legal advice tailored to our needs.”

We represent companies on environmental and safety issues across a range of disciplines, including regulatory counseling; project siting and permitting; rulemaking, such as pre-proposal advocacy, comment development and appellate challenges; administrative, civil and criminal enforcement; auditing; internal investigations; accident response and crisis management; and transactional due diligence.
