

Bracewell Represents PLT Energia in Joint Venture With GGS Energy

News Release

March 04, 2024 | 1 minute read | Houston | London | Washington, DC

HOUSTON – Bracewell LLP represented PLT Energia in its joint venture with GGS Energy LLC to develop more than 1 GW of renewable energy in Texas.

The joint venture's first project will be the development and construction of its Indigo Project Phase I, located in West Texas totaling 330 MW: 150 MW of PV and 180 MW of storage. Construction is expected to commence in June 2024. The newly formed joint venture company, PLT US Solar 1 LLC, is 80 percent owned by PLT and 20 percent owned by GGS.

PLT is one of the largest independent Italian groups in the renewable and energy storage sector.

GGS, a subsidiary of Glacier Global Partners, was formed in 2020 as an energy transition company focusing on developments of utility-scale renewable energy projects in the United States with an initial focus on photovoltaic projects.
